The Telos Code of Conduct

“Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers” (Ephesians 4:29).

“It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak” (Romans 14:21).

“. . . Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (I Corinthians 6:19–20).

Based upon these and other Scriptures, Telos students are expected to reflect Godly character in their speech, dress, and actions. Modest and professional dress is expected at every Telos event, and disruptive language or behavior will not be permitted. At all times, Telos students are to be characterized by Godly qualities including, but not limited to, honesty, courtesy, diligence, and humility.

Manifestations of negative character including, but not limited to, misrepresentations on applications for admission, lying, profanity, immoral behavior, plagiarism, unauthorized collaboration or discussion with other students about graded writing assignments or papers, and cheating on exams are clear violations of the code of conduct.

If a student’s conduct, speech, or dress is not consistent with the character standards set forth here, the issue will be addressed in accordance with Matthew 18:15–16. If repentance and restoration are not accomplished, the student will be subject to dismissal from the Institute.

The Telos C.N.A. Training Commitments

Telos C.N.A. students realize that their first responsibility and priority is to serve the Lord with their whole hearts. They realize that this may mean giving up some of their freedoms in order not to offend others. Students accepted into the C.N.A. course will be expected to:

1. Recognize that all time spent serving here is spiritually worthless unless they have received Jesus Christ as their personal Savior from sin. They must realize that The Telos Institute International is an avowed Christian organization and pledge to live their lives in a way that follows the principles of God’s Word, the Bible.
2. Dedicate their bodies to God, to be used for His Purposes, in accordance with Romans 12:1.
3. Purpose to be submissive to their authorities, especially their parents and Telos leadership.
4. Strive to always keep a “conscience void of offense” toward God and toward others, especially their authorities (Acts 24:16).
5. Commit to dress modestly at all times, in accordance with Telos written guidelines.
6. Commit to avoid all dating relationships or formation of relationships with members of the opposite gender during their time at Telos C.N.A. training, realizing that this includes writing, calling, electronic messaging, and other forms of communication.
7. Make every Biblical effort to avoid actions or activities that are offensive to others to avoid becoming a stumbling block to those weaker in the faith.
8. Purpose to “stand alone” to do what is right if a situation arises where others are doing wrong.
9. Commit to only listen, play, and sing music that glorifies God and will edify others.

THE TELOS INSTITUTE INTERNATIONAL

CNA TRAINING PROGRAM

STATEMENT OF CLARIFICATION

The Telos Institute International offers a CNA training program which enables a student to qualify for the Indiana CNA Certification exam. The training is directed by dedicated Christian instructors working from a foundation of Biblical principles, and every effort is made to operate the program in a manner that glorifies the Lord. We recognize the vital importance of maintaining moral purity in thought and action. We recognize that our students come from families where they have been taught to be very careful about appropriate conduct toward the opposite gender.

Christians who choose to enter the health care field are often called upon to face unique situations where they must minister to patients of the opposite gender. In order to qualify for a CNA license in the State of Indiana, a student must demonstrate all of the following skills in a clinical setting. In addition, they will be required to demonstrate some of these skills, chosen at random, as part of their certification exam.

1. Handwashing *	25. Electric Razor

Students will learn to carry out all these procedures in a way that respects the modesty and privacy of the patient. Our instructors will attempt to give you clinical experience with patients of the same gender, but there may be times when the needs of the patients require you to perform procedures on a patient of the opposite gender. In addition, a state examiner administers the certification examination, and Telos has no control over the examination process. If you have any questions about any of the procedures or other parts of the training, please call us at 317-527-5222.

We want to be sure that you have a clear, correct understanding of all that is involved in a CNA training program. Therefore, we request that you sign and date the following statement, and return it to the Telos office before you arrive for the training:

I understand and accept the fact that I will be required to learn and demonstrate all of the procedures mentioned above, and that I will be tested on them. I furthermore realize that, although the Telos staff will endeavor to provide clinical experiences with patients of the same gender, it may be necessary to perform procedures on patients of the opposite gender during the clinical portion of the training and/or the certification exam.
